Lambrino Kayos Shugrue; Mack Hits the Canvas

Two Knockouts Featured Last Night's Fight at Amherst—Three Other Fights Were Fast and Exciting—Large Crowd Present

The fans who visited the arena Friday night witnessed a fine card of bouts in which every contender did his share to add to the enjoyment of the attendants. Two knockouts featured the program and the battles in which the vanquished soldiers fought were brilliant until the opportune time for the unworking of the deadly rubber.

Gene Mack happened to be one of the soldiers of ill fortune and went down from two smashing blows—left and right—delivered by the victorious Frankie Kouchina in the third round of their set-to. Mack was groggy for the whole period of the third stanza from numerous blows landed by Kouchina in the first and second frames. The third was not old before Gene was on the canvas while Referee Connolly counted him out.

Mack hit the canvas. Kouchina landed heavy blows in every round than Mack. Both boys started the discussion of Kouchina in the early session and then continued on landing with his strong left. It was impossible for Mack to get any time Mack tried to land, Gene changed his style of attacking, several times but his shiftness proved of no avail.

In the second stanza Kouchina did the work, but as soon as the bell sounded to start but Gene seemed to be ready for the attack and no damage was done. Then Kouchina played for Gene's head and he had a "pretty shine" when he entered the squared circle and the numerous blows on the head seemed to settle Mack's ability. However he had a spark of energy left in him after the strenuous battle and when the second round entered he danced to his corner.

Mack was tired of the scrap when the third session started and when he received the two hard shots on his battered head he hit the floor and stayed there until assisted to his corner.

Kouchina entered the ring at 158½ while Mack weighed 155.

Lambrino Kayos Shugrue. The other boys who fought Lambrino over Danny Shugrue. It occurred in the fifth stanza of their scheduled ten-round frays. Both boys scrapped the best they knew how in every round up until the quietest of stanzas materialized.

The blow that sent Shugrue to the canvas was a fierce left to the stomach and the punch unscathed by Lambrino kept his adversary in a helpless condition for some time.

Shugrue seemed to possess a knowledge of the game and at ducking heavy blows he was an artist. He landed several hard ones and his two hands worked in equal style when it came to delivering shots. Shugrue was at his best in the third stanza.

Lambrino could uncork a fast dynamited wallop and tried to land it from the initial gang. His chance did not come until the fifth but when it came he certainly took advantage of it. He also manifested skill in the art of self defense.

Lambrino took his stand in the circle at 135½ pounds and Danny Shugrue weighed 132.

Best Made in Show. The Eddie Murphy, 145 lb. George Molan, 145 lb. were a thriller and the fans seemed "all hot up." They were hard workers and did their best to overcome one another but the officials saw equal good qualities in both pugilists and awarded a decision favorable to both—a draw.

Eddie Murphy had a smile on his map throughout the contest and seemed as happy as a baby with a lollipop. Eddie had a dangerous wallop in each of his hands but his swift ones did not damage Molan.

Molan was a surfer whose ability equaled Murphy's. He had two good hands and landed numerous blows. He also exhibited a knowledge of the ring game by using various defensive methods as did his opponent Murphy.

Best Wink. Ray Duro and Johnny Turner fought six rounds and during the encounter six knockouts effected. The decision of the judges went to Duro.

Duro landed the greatest number of blows and they were heavy ones at that but Turner was able to take them. Turner had a good left but could not get it on Duro's body in an effective way. Duro landed many blows when the boys were at close range.

Duro topped the scales at 120. Turner weighed 122.

Session Date Award. Bobby Graham, 121 pounds, and RM Hayes, 120, went four rounds in the opening bout. Graham got the decision of the judges. Both boys worked evenly in the first two stanzas but Graham proved his superiority during the third and fourth. In the third stanza Graham was on the end of the club which caused him to lose his balance but he was able to take the blows and he was able to take the blows when the boys were at close range.

The officials were: Thomas Connolly of New York, referee; Frank Sullivan of Kingston and Johnny Barry of Bantam, judges; Edward Jones of Bantam, clerk. Thomas F. Connolly did the counting.

The crowd was out on the legs in the corner but the excitement of the bout far from being in any way a disadvantage.

Writers Pick Mack's Athletics

New York, April 10 (AP).—Connie Mack's Athletics will dominate the American League pennant race this year if the combined convictions of baseball writers throughout the major circuits are borne out.

The colorful array of stars headed by Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins and Zach Wheat has so far caught the fancy of the experts that 29 out of 42, whose selections have been compiled by the Associated Press, pick the Mackmen to lead the pennant parade. Ten other writers think the Athletics will finish second while only four drop them as low as either third or fourth.

The New York Yankees, 1926 champions, are regarded as the Athletics' strongest rivals by the observers who have followed spring fortunes with experienced eyes. Detroit, Cleveland and Washington are bunched in second order as the remaining contenders in what the experts agree will be a five club battle for major honors.

The Yanks are favored to repeat by some critics. Three pick the Tigers to better their way to the top of the heap while one vote each is cast for the prospects of the Indians and Senators.

The strongest tribute of all to the prowess of the Athletics is tendered by the New York writers, among whom 11 out of 15 select the Mackmen to replace the home town Yanks at the peak. Writers in every city except Washington cast their ballots for the Mackmen, although a note of skepticism was sounded by one Chicago expert, who suggested that the Athletics either are "carrying too much weight for age or too much age for weight."

SCHOOL NO. 2 BEAT NO. 4 NINE, 17-9.

At the Athletic Field Wednesday afternoon School No. 2 easily beat School No. 4 by the score of 17-9. No. 2 got an early lead of 8 runs in the first inning and were never threatened. No. 4's numerous errors were a big factor in their defeat. Score:

MULDOON SAYS $27.50 SHOULD BE THE MAXIMUM

New York, April 9 (AP).—William Muldoon, 51-year-old member of the State Banking Commission, believes $27.50 is the most any man should be allowed to pay to see a fight.

"The public have been kept too much," he declared yesterday in answering how he would vote against allowing any man to see a fight at a figure higher than that. If the other two members of the commission voted with the referee, Tom Muldoon will have to vote his heavy weight into the light to come out other than that, the boxing prophet says.

As Muldoon has it figured to make $100 for a regular season to make it worth his while to bring Tunny back.

SCHOOL DAYS

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT
By F. A. WALKER

THE FIRST PULL

IT IS the far-sighted, resolute sort of man or woman, who with the first determined pull keeps the lead moving until it reaches its destination.

And if the man or the woman of this type should be told twenty times a day that the burden is too heavy, that the hills are long and hard to climb, there is never an inclination to let her.

After the first pull, which is the hardest, it is found the momentum is kept up rather easily.

The daily tug becomes a joy. It intensifies interest and develops dormant will-power.

Those who idle precious time by the wayside, stop at frequent intervals to participate in diversions, and the road different, difficult and discouraging.

They cannot pull or climb. Their muscles have become soft from lack of use. Their minds refuse to budge from the worn grooves of lethargy.

They are dull in body and soul, incumbered by a poisonous torpor, produced, as a rule, by midnight follies and loss of sleep.

Their hearts, which until now have been ticking accurate seconds, weaken and slow down.

None of these failings are observed in the diligent who took time to read the warnings along Life's highway, and turned resolutely to the right.

With the first pull, they resolved "to keep it," to haul and lug and drag without halting; to go along gladly with songs on their lips; to put forth their last ounce of strength and laugh at "impossibility."

They are bound to reach the top, and with the dizzy elevation of the City of Success already in sight, they keep marching on, asking no man's counsel but their own, having learned to think and act for themselves by reading of the great men who have gone before and blazed the way.

They have charted their course, and neither the world at large nor the gladiators therein can swerve them from their purpose.

The bald, beggarly days that lie at the end of silly indulgence and ruin, are dispersions are not for them, nor are they for you, if, when you make the first pull, you press onward with all your might and keep going with your face set toward the heights.

(By the Western Newspaper Syndicate.)

THE more you know, the more you forget—in other people.

It isn't half so much satisfaction knowing a thing as knowing somebody else knows you know it.

There's only one thing sadder than planning for next year when you don't even know if you'll drift along till bedtime and that's drifting along till bedtime without plans for next year.

Jack-of-all-trades might not be the master of none, but he isn't the slave of none, either.

Flowers is nice to look forward to, but work is nice to look back on.

If you don't get along when you're sorry, you don't need to expect to have dollars when you're fifty.

Beaple inspires fear.

The dramatic level will ignore any reason for a laughing matter, or any will dash away from one as quickly as the wind will carry it. A parrot that has been kept in captivity for many years will show the greatest panic at the sight of a barbed wire mesh.

THE FAMILY MEAL

ALL rich cakes, puddings, pies and preserves should be eaten sparingly after the age of sixty. All green vegetables, such as spinach, peas, lettuce and cress, should find a place in one meal each day. These are especially valuable for growing children and equally valuable for the aged.

Orange Sauce.

Mix one cupful of sugar, rind of one orange and two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch; when well blended add two cupfuls of boiling water and cook until thick and the cornstarch taste is removed; then add a tablespoonful of butter, one-third of a cupful of orange juice and a pinch of salt. Serve hot over plum or cottage pudding.

Fruit Sandwiches.

Finely chop well-washed figs, add a small quantity of water and cook in a double boiler until a paste is formed. Sweeten to taste and flavor with grated lemon peel; cool and spread on slices of buttered toast or nut bread. Press together in pairs and cut into four small triangles. Garnish each with a large seeded raisin.

Prune and Nut Sandwiches.

Remove the stones and finely chop one cupful of prunes, add one-half cupful of chopped English walnuts, moisten with mayonnaise dressing and use as a filling between thin slices of buttered bread. Cut into any desired shapes and serve with coffee.

Chicken Pie With Oysters.

Cut into pieces a nice fat chicken, put into a saucepan, cover with boiling water, season highly with salt and pepper and stew until it is tender. Line the sides of a baking dish with a nice rich crust. Remove the largest bones from the chicken and place the meat in layers with oysters, salt and pepper and pieces of butter. Pour in half the chicken broth and some of the oyster liquor. Cover with a top crust and bake.

Sanatou Salad.

Take one cupful of grated fresh coconut, one pint of cubed apple, one cupful of finely cut celery, one small onion cut into fine cubes; mix all well and moisten lightly with the milk of the coconut, let stand until well chilled, add a light seasoning of French dressing, and when ready to serve add plenty of mayonnaise.

Propaganda Always
It is probable that there has been what we now know as propaganda in connection with every important movement in human history. As to the American Revolution, for example, Thomas Paine is said to have made it his boast that he brought about the revolution by his pamphlet, "Common Sense."

Trinity Church To Receive Gift

Memorial to Late S. E. Highway to be Presented Sunday Morning—The Rev. George L. Withey, Newly Appointed Pastor, Will Preach.

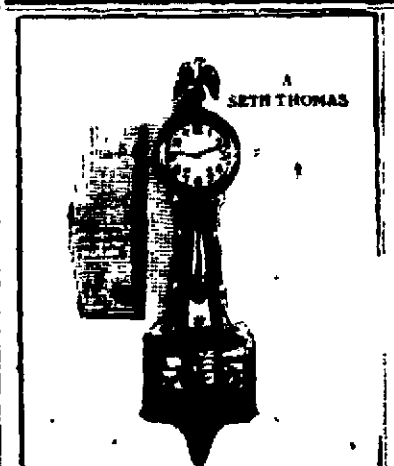

Sunday morning at Trinity M. E. Church on Wurts street Mrs. S. E. Highway will present the church with a new pulpit desk and a communion table with two pedestals for flower stands, in memory of her husband, the late Sherman E. Highway, for years active in the work of the church as a member of the official board, trustee of the church and superintendent of the Sunday school. The furniture was designed and built by the Schwarzwalders at Chichester, and harmonizes with the interior of the church. The furniture is of walnut.
Sunday will also be marked by the fact that the Rev. George L. Withey, who was appointed pastor of the church at the closing session of the New York Conference, will preach at both the morning and evening service.

KINGSTONIANS ATTEND REAL ESTATE BOARD MEETING

Max Reben, James E. Reed and Nathaniel B. Gross, representing the Kingston Real Estate Board, attended a meeting of the New York State Real Estate Board at the Ten Eyck Hotel in Albany on Friday. About 200 realtors were in attendance and there were addresses by prominent speakers.

The meeting reconvened after the luncheon and a round table discussion of realtors from every part of the state discussed the fact that great optimism prevails regarding the real estate business for 1927. Wherever pessimism made itself present it was invariably found to be a purely local condition which could be remedied and has been in most cases by the proper publicity of the local board. In many communities the realtors have through close cooperation accomplished results of an inestimable value from a civic standpoint.

No Lasting Harm
If we could see ourselves as others see us we'd soon find some one we thought looked worse and be happy again.—Ohio State Journal.
